Good morning,

As you will see below, after 9 years of excellent and valued service on the Budget Committee, Chris McLaran has given his resignation. This results in an opening on the 3-person committee and with the upcoming budget meetings (new committee members will typically observe some of the initial service team presentations), we will need to appoint someone as soon as possible. Fortunately, Chris has already reached out to someone and is recommending the Board consider appointing her to the committee. Attached is her completed committee application.

While there are technically no prerequisites for serving on the committee, we have greatly benefited by having committee members that have strong budgeting, business, or accounting backgrounds and a basic understanding of county government. Members of the budget committee also serve on the Compensation Committee and this group has the difficult task of reviewing and recommending salaries for all of the County's elected officials.

I will add this as an agenda item for tomorrow's informal session, so we can discuss next steps.

Thank you,

Ken Huffer

Hi Ken,

I'm sorry to have to leave after 9 years of service but it is time for me to allocate some of my time in other areas. I don't want to leave you guys hanging though and do have a recommendation for my place if you'd like to grant her an interview. Her name is Lindsay Berschauer. She runs a small consulting firm in Newberg.

I also have a couple others in mind if you are looking for more applicants. Let me know how I can make the transition easy for you!

All the best,

Chris McLaran
