Staff Updates

There have been volunteer activities at county parks during the last month. The Willamette Riverkeepers cleaned up the river around Rogers Landing and Ediger Landing. Duniway Middle School sent two classes to Ed Grenfell Park to mulch around trees and shrubs. After a presentation to the Kiwanis's club, additional inquiries have been made about volunteering opportunities.

Dayton Landing improvements will require some redesign by the Oregon State Marine Board, but the project is still a go.

Still waiting for input from County Counsel on the Wrex Cruse sheep permit and the Crabtree Park lease extension and setting a date to meet with Waste Management on Whiteson.

New Business

Martin Peters was introduced as an applicant for the Parks Board. He stayed for the remainder of the meeting.

Jarod presented a summary of the 2019 Tangleboxing program. There was some discussion about making improvements for 2020. The Board requested a comparison of 2019 statistics compared to recent past years, which Staff will provide. Three passport returns were drawn for prizes, and Jarod will contact them to attend a presentation event, which will be the November Parks Board meeting.

County Parks Master Plan: Jarod has prepared a draft Scope of Work (SOW) for Board review. A few copies were passed out and this was discussed. It was requested that comments be sent back to him by Monday Oct. 28. This SOW will be included in the Request for Proposals to go out after Board of Commissioner approval, hopefully in January, to solicit master plan contractors. The visioning discussion the Board had previously will not be continued, as visioning will be part of the SOW requirements.

The Board had another discussion on a Parks Logo and branding. It was agreed to pursue this further.

At the end of the meeting, the Board unanimously recommended that Martin Peters' application be recommended to the Board of Commissioners for approval.

Following the regular business, there was a discussion on the status of the Yamhelas Westsider Trail and the recent Land Use Board of Appeals decision.

Meeting adjourned at 6:40pm.
